He held the wizard's letter and reread the message and the two runes.What they had they shared. In that it was indeed Morred's Isle. Nobody on Roke starved or went unhoused, though nobody had much more than they needed. Hidden from the rest of the world not only by sea and storm but by their defenses that disguised the island and sent ships astray, they worked and talked and sang the songs, The Winter Carol and The Deed of the Young King. And they had books, the Chronicles of Enlad and the History of the Wise Heroes. From these precious books the old men and women would read aloud in a hall down by the wharf where the fisherwomen made and mended their nets. There was a hearth there, and they would light the fire. People came even from farms across the island to hear the histories read, listening in silence, intent. "Our souls are hungry," Ember said.."I gave it up, Darkrose. There came on me what my people call the eduevanu, the other."How clever you are," he said. "Have you found better ore than that patch you found first? Worth the digging and the roasting?". "Dirt's easier to keep clean," he said, knowing the struggle already lost. It was true that all you had to do with a good hard-packed clay floor was sweep it and now and then sprinkle it to keep the dust down. But it sounded silly all the same.."No. I'll write him," Diamond said, in his new, level voice..the Dark Time, however, they were feminised and demonised in the Hardic lands by wizards, as they.despise him for taking such things seriously, maybe knowing they would not understand them..Again there was silence between them. The leaves of the willows stirred..These legends are best preserved in Hur-at-Hur, the easternmost of the Kargad Lands, where dragons have degenerated into animals without high intelligence. Yet it is in Hur-at-Hur that people keep the most vivid conviction of the original kinship of human and dragon kind. And with these tales of ancient times come stories of recent days about dragons who take human form, humans who take dragon form, beings who are in fact both human and dragon..that she might see me, I walked more and more slowly.
